

About the Association

The Coastal Cruising Association has been one of the foremost maritime societies in the British Isles since 1964.

The excursion ship and ferry scene has changed significantly in the intervening years but the Association still actively seeks opportunities for members to sail together and to bring together all those with similar interests.

Association Activities

The Association arranges interesting charters and trips on a variety of vessels, large and small, around the Coast and on Rivers and Inland Waters

COASTAL CRUISING ASSOCIATION

Association Objectives

- The collation and distribution of information regarding Ship and Boat sailings and the publication of Cruising Monthly
- The organisation and support of special sailings and excursions
- The organisation and support of indoor meetings and other appropriate facilities for Ship and Boat enthusiasts

Cruising Monthly

This is the Association's Monthly Journal which gives news of vessels, their operators, services and sailings and opportunities for unusual trips and cruises.

Information included covers all main ferry, excursion and trip boats around the British Isles plus inland waters and developments in Scandinavia and the rest of Europe.

Information about meetings and special sailings organised by the CCA and other Societies and Groups is included in the Diary section of Cruising Monthly

the benefits

Membership is available in the following categories:

ORDINARY

Everybody who enjoys sailing aboard passenger vessels is invited to join as an ordinary member.

CORPORATE

Ferry, excursion ship, trip boat operators and travel companies are invited to join as corporate members.

ASSOCIATE

Relatives of ordinary members may join as associate members.
They enjoy all benefits of membership but do not get their own

Scottish Branch Meetings

The Scottish Branch of the Association holds regular monthly meetings in Glasgow during the winter months.

These are held in the hall of the United Free Church, Partick, which is easily accessible from Partick train, subway and bus interchange.

Topics covered range through all aspects of coastal cruising, ferry trips and sailing on European lakes and rivers. Coffee, tea and biscuits are available before and after the meetings.

National AGM and Mid Winter weekend break

The Association's AGM moves around the country and is usually part of an enjoyable weekend break including special cruise, annual dinner and hotel package
